Have you ever been accused of workplace harassment or misconduct at any other, current, or former place of employment? (Check one box below)

NO, I have not accused of workplace harassment or misconduct at any other, current, or former place of employment.

YES, see below.

If YES, please describe such information in detail, including identification of the employer, and a description of the substance of the accusation, the outcome of the employer's investigation into the allegation, and whether you were issued formal or informal discipline of any type as a result (including, without limitation, coaching; counseling; warning; suspension; reassignment or demotion (whether deemed voluntary or otherwise); or discharge (or resignation in lieu of discharge)) – attach additional sheets if needed:

I certify that the above information is true and correct. I recognize that hiring or employment decisions will be premised on the veracity of this information and, accordingly, I understand that, if this information is found to be false or omitted, such falsity can serve as the basis for my nonselection or, if hired, for my discharge.
